The status of the claims is as follows:

Claims 1-14 (11-14 newly added) are herein addressed below.

The changes to the specification have been approved by the Examiner.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 5, 7-10, and 12-14 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. patent to Kaye et al. (6,409,251 B1). Kaye et al. (6,409,251 B1) disclose a weather-strip (see Figure below) comprising a sealing section (44, 46, 48, and 50), a U-shaped fastener section (66, 68, 70, and 76) having a metallic carrier, and a plastic trim strip (40) positively connected to the fastening section (66, 68, 70, and 76). Kaye et al. (6,409,251 B1) further discloses the plastic trim strip (40) comprising a first hooked section (90) extending within a first recess (86) and second hooked section (98) extending within a second recess (84). Kaye et al. (6,409,251 B1) still further discloses a retaining segment (80), a supporting lip (70), and a U-shaped metallic carrier (60).

Art Unit: 3634

Claims 2-4, 6, and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The applicant's arguments have been considered and are not deemed persuasive. The applicant argues that the "retaining segments" of Kaye et al. (6,409,251 B1) is not pivotal. The Examiner respectfully disagrees. Since the retaining segment (shown above) is formed of thermoplastic and further has notches, this allows flexibility to attach the plastic trim strip. Therefore, some pivoting will occur when attaching the plastic trim strip. Still furthermore, the applicant states that it is the plastic trim strip that flexes and not the retaining segment. Again, the applicant respectfully disagrees since both elements are flexible and when attaching, both elements will bend, flex and "pivot".

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
